Operation Director: Kevin Kalla

Kevin Kalla is a non-profit professional and arts educator with over 14 years of experience in the field of youth work. He has developed youth programs that are engaging and accessible while creating spaces that are nurturing, authentic, and inclusive for both youth and staff. Kevin believes in the power of arts education to tell stories and transform lives. He has a deep knowledge of program quality, continuous improvement cycles, system development, and youth work best practices. Kevin holds a BA in Communications from Macalester College.

Kevin is: A community builder, creative problem solver, leader, collaborator, and change-maker. A mentor, teacher, lifelong learner, and youth work professional. A storyteller, communicator, media maker, technology integrator, filmmaker, and photographer. An adventurer, an optimist, a reader, a cook, and a third culture kid.
